ABOUT ISTE

The International Society for Technology in Education (ISTE) is home to a passionate community of global educators who believe in the power of technology to transform teaching and learning, accelerate innovation and solve tough problems in education.

ISTE inspires the creation of solutions and connections that improve opportunities for all learners by delivering: practical guidance, evidence-based professional learning, virtual networks, thought-provoking events and the ISTE Standards. ISTE is also the leading publisher of books focused on technology in education. For more information or to become an ISTE member, visit iste.org. Subscribe to ISTE's YouTube channel and connect with ISTE on Twitter, Facebook and LinkedIn.

ISTE BOOKS

Whether you're a classroom teacher, librarian, district leader or teacher educator, ISTE books are your answer to effective districtwide PD and professional learning to meet your goals or tech initiatives.

Books ordered in bulk receive significant discounts and may be eligible for a FREE customized webinar with the book author (subject to scheduling availability). For more information, email books@iste.org.

Subscribe to the ISTE Books Newsletter to receive monthly updates from the ISTE Books team, including author news, exclusive deals and information about upcoming releases. Visit iste.org/BooksNews to sign up!

ISTE U COURSES

Welcome to our classroom! If you're looking for an engaging, interactive learning experience for your own professional growth or for your colleagues, consider online courses from ISTE U. These flexible online courses put pedagogy first. They're built to help educators, librarians, technology coaches and education leaders develop digital competencies and advance their careers by exploring critical topics in education.

Courses range from two-hour, fully self-paced to 15-hour, cohort-based experiences led by an expert instructor. Discounts are available to group registrations for 10 or more people, and larger groups have the option to form a private cohort with customizable dates, messaging and admin access. For more information, email isteu@iste.org.

ACCESSIBILITY AND INCLUSION

Dive Into UDL, Second Edition

Immersive Practices to Develop Expert Learners

Kendra Grant, Luis Perez

UDL is a framework for designing instruction that meets the needs of every learner. This book is meant to support your professional learning, giving you options and choice in how you build your knowledge.

In this updated edition, readers will learn how to incorporate accessible learning materials and technologies into their instructional design to ensure choice for learners and help them develop into independent, motivated expert learners.

$35.99 • July 2022 • 272 pages • 7.5 × 9.25 • 9781564849335 • iste.org/DiveIntoUDL2

The Maker Playbook

A Guide to Creating Inclusive Learning Experiences

Caroline D. Haebig

School leaders and classroom teachers alike are looking for ways to integrate maker learning into their work in meaningful ways, but they simply don't have the time, capacity or resources to review, synthesize or adapt existing models into their own school systems. The Maker Playbook offers a vision and the tools needed to streamline the process, including high-impact strategies you can put directly into action to foster an inclusive maker learning environment.

$34.99 • September 2021 • 240 pages • 7.5 × 9.25 • 9781564849199 • iste.org/MakerPlaybook

Inclusive Learning 365

Edtech Strategies for Every Day of the Year

Christopher Bugaj, Karen Janowski, Mike Marotta, Beth Poss

Designed to be read one day — and page — at a time, this book from four inclusive learning experts offers 365 strategies for implementing technology to design inclusive experiences that can be implemented immediately in order to provide meaningful instruction. The heart of the book is the shift in mindset that occurs by exploring a different practical, inclusive strategy each day and infusing these strategies into everyday practice.

$39.99 • August 2021 • 408 pages • 8 × 10 • 9781564848857 • iste.org/Inclusive365

"A must-have book for all education professionals, with practical real-world examples of ways to support all students. It is a strategy-forward approach to finding tools to meet the needs of all tasks and learners!"

— ELISA WERN, OT AND AT SPECIALIST

The New Assistive Tech

Make Learning Awesome for All!

Christopher Bugaj

The New Assistive Tech is a catalyst for breaking down walls between special education and general education, and will help all educators realize they have tech knowledge (and can build upon that knowledge) that can be used to support students, especially those with disabilities.

$39.99 • April 2018 • 272 pages • 7.5 × 9.25 • 9781564846884 • iste.org/NewAssistiveTech

COMPUTER SCIENCE, COMPUTATIONAL THINKING AND STEM

Environmental Science for Grades 6–12

A Project-Based Approach to Solving the Earth's Most Urgent Problems

James Fester, Jorge Valenzuela

Project-based learning (PBL), with its emphasis on inquiry and authentic challenges, can be an effective approach to teaching environmental science (ES). Those new to PBL may not feel they have adequate training. Likewise, teachers who haven't taught ES may question how to incorporate it into their curriculum. This book addresses both situations, providing practical guidance, along with examples of technology-rich, learner-centered student projects mapped to Next Generation Science Standards and ISTE Standards, and covering a range of timely and cross-curricular topics.

Distance Learning for Elementary STEM

Creative Projects for Teachers and Families

Amanda Thomas

From designing a zoo, to learning to garden, to exploring the night sky, you'll find eight STEM lessons that are creative, hands-on and engaging for elementary learners. Written for teachers and parents, this book unpacks STEM integration across multiple subjects, with connections to the ISTE Standards. The book also includes play-based lessons for young learners, and ideas for innovative design challenges.

Coding and the Arts

Connecting CS to Drawing, Music, Animation and More

Josh Caldwell

While there are books that discuss the intersection of the arts and computer science (CS), there are none that cover the content overlaps between CS and the arts beyond a single programming environment, and that feature approaches and examples of practicing artists. Coding and the Arts fills that gap.

CS sometimes gets a bad rap as dry, isolated and uninteresting work — the pursuit of analytically minded techies working alone. In reality, programming is deeply creative and enables artists of all types to discover new ways to express themselves. In this book, you'll explore how to apply computation to stretch the possibilities in many art forms, as well as how to pave the way for entirely new ones. By approaching programming tools as artistic media, you'll connect the dots between programming, creativity and artistic expression. Along the way, you'll learn from a diverse set of computational artists and teachers who are using technology to push the bounds of traditional artistic media.

Storytelling With Purpose

Digital Projects to Ignite Student Curiosity

Storytelling enables us to make sense of the world and bring order to our thinking. Now more than ever, students are hungry for authentic learning experiences that offer opportunities to make an impact beyond the classroom. With practical advice and examples of how to plan, create, publish and assess student stories, this book offers a fresh approach to digital storytelling. And it includes guidance on how to provide students with the tools and structure they need to develop a mindset of curiosity, agency and purpose.

Establishing digital storytelling as a framework for learning rather than a separate add-on project or a way to record work being done in other subject areas, the book covers various types of digital storytelling — from infographics and social media posts to podcasts and video documentaries — and demonstrates how to choose the best ways to incorporate digital storytelling into curricula.

About the Author

Michael Hernandez is an award-winning cinema and journalism teacher whose work focuses on digital storytelling, media literacy and social justice. As an author, speaker and consultant, he helps educators empower students to find passion and purpose in their learning so they can make a positive impact in their communities.

Bring History and Civics to Life

Lessons and Strategies to Cultivate Informed, Empathetic Citizens

Karalee Wong Nakatsuka, Laurel Aguilar-Kirchoff

With this book, two dynamic, award-winning educators draw clear connections between history, civics, community — and technology — in meaningful and actionable ways to deepen students' understanding of democratic processes and civic engagement. Using edtech and instructional design as entry points, the book highlights pedagogically sound practices to build critical thinking skills, and offers classroom examples from a wide range of educators to show how to implement these strategies in the classroom.

Moviemaking in the Classroom

Lifting Student Voices Through Digital Storytelling

Jessica Pack

Written by an award-winning classroom teacher with years of experience integrating movie-making into curriculum, Moviemaking in the Classroom offers quick-start lesson plans to help students amplify their voices and effect change through moviemaking. Also included are practical suggestions for removing barriers from the storytelling process, such as how to provide more opportunities for students to tell their stories during a single academic year.

CREATIVE TEACHING STRATEGIES

The Immersive Classroom

Create Customized Learning Experiences With AR/VR

Jaime Donally

This book highlights the possibilities of immersive technology to make an impact for all student populations. Our classrooms are filled with individuals who learn in diverse ways, and educators need creative teaching approaches to enrich learning for students of all levels. When applied effectively, immersive technology can target students' interests and empower students' choices in their learning. Readers will gain insights into customizing tools through app hacking and app smashing; discover the ways that immersive technology can deepen student engagement and activate learning through hunts, breakouts and labs; and explore global collaboration.

Awesome Sauce

Create Videos to Inspire Students, Engage Parents and Save You Time

Josh Stock

The ability to use video to communicate has become a basic element of literacy — inside and outside the classroom. Structured like a cookbook, this playful, fun-to-read guide shows educators how to make simple videos that explain assignments, welcome students to new schools and grades, differentiate lessons for a range of learning levels and more. The book also helps teachers use video to address common issues like enhancing classroom culture and managing parent communication.

Infusing Art Into Your STEM Curriculum

Tim Needles

From artist/educator Tim Needles comes a fresh and unique approach to STEAM topics, focusing on creativity, innovation and collaboration. This engaging guide includes project ideas and best practices, while providing insight from educators in the field. Technologies covered include: coding, robotics, 3D printing, virtual and augmented reality, photography, video, animation and digital drawing. The book also addresses several different approaches to bringing STEAM learning to the next level, such as global learning, project-based learning, makerspaces and social-emotional learning.

"With STEAM Power, Needles takes us where all schools need to be if we want to succeed in the future. STEAM Power is an urgent and transformative guide, an essential read."

Deepening Digital Citizenship A Guide to Systemwide Policy and Practice

How can education leaders provide comprehensive support to implement key digital citizenship practices? Are we creating one-size-fits-all digital citizenship curriculum? How can we bring together partners from diverse backgrounds and abilities to expand the meaning of digital citizenship? This book addresses all these questions and more, showing educators of all levels how to implement digital citizenship in an inclusive and equitable manner. Readers will learn strategies for building the capacity to develop and deliver professional learning to support a systemwide digital citizenship program implementation.

About the Authors

Carrie Rogers-Whitehead is the founder of Digital Respons-Ability, which works with educators, parents and students to teach digital citizenship. She is the author of several books, including Digital Citizenship: Teaching Strategies and Practice from the Field (Rowman & Littlefield, 2019).

Vanessa Monterosa, Ed.D., serves as a senior associate partner for NewSchools Venture Fund, a nonprofit committed to investing in bold, innovative ideas to transform education. Prior to joining the NewSchools team, Monterosa dedicated seven years to successfully shaping system-level digital citizenship efforts across Los Angeles Unified, the nation's second largest school district.

"Digital citizenship programs that look beyond safety and privacy concerns enable youth to discover how they can make a mark on today's world and engage in it productively rather than simply being told what not to do and how not to interact."

Developing Digital Detectives

Essential Lessons for Discerning Fact from Fiction in the 'Fake News' Era

Jennifer LaGarde, Darren Hudgins

The current information landscape is driven by clicks, pushing content creators toward the same goal: a viral story. In this environment, where the tenets of ethics and accuracy are sometimes usurped by the need for engagement in the forms of follows, likes and shares, traditional strategies for determining information credibility are no longer sufficient. From the authors of Fact vs. Fiction, this book offers easy-to-implement lessons to support learners as they become "digital detectives," looking for clues, questioning motives, uncovering patterns, developing theories and, ultimately, delivering a verdict. The book includes access to the author-created Digital Detective's Evidence Locker, an online collection of over 100 resources that support the lessons in the book.

DIGITAL AGE LIBRARIAN'S SERIES

This series, written for librarians by librarians, features books focused on topics important to media specialists/teacher librarians.

Leading From the Library, Second Edition Help Your School Community Thrive in the Digital Age

Join a librarian and an education leader as they team up to explore the librarian's role as a leader who works collaboratively to build relationships, mold culture and advocate for the needs of students and the community. Authors Shannon McClintock Miller and William Bass discuss the benefits of bringing the outside world into the library. They then address how librarians can lead in the greater education community by sharing resources and strategies, and partnering with school leaders to tell the story of the school community. The new edition includes chapters reflecting on the experiences of librarians during the COVID-19 pandemic and expanding the definition of literacy, with topics such as media and information literacy, and the importance of critical thinking and research as essential skills for students.

About the Authors

Shannon McClintock Miller is the K-12 district teacher librarian at Van Meter Community School District in Iowa. In 2013, she was named one of the Faces of Innovation by Broadband for America and was a featured Connected Educator with the Connected Educators projects in partnership with the U.S. Department of Education.

William Bass is the innovation coordinator for instructional technology, information and library media for the Parkway School District in St. Louis, Missouri. # EDUCATOR WELL-BEING AND MINDFULNESS

Creative Journaling for Teachers

A Visual Approach to Declutter Thoughts, Manage Time and Boost Productivity

Nichole Carter

We are living in an age when “hustle” and “grind” are part of our daily lives. While teachers are expected to stay on top of their lengthy to-do lists, the demands on them are greater than ever. How can we provide the tools teachers and, by extension, their students need to declutter thoughts, manage time better and remain focused and productive?

With her approachable style, educator and trainer Nichole Carter demonstrates how unlocking the creative brain can help improve mental health and problem-solving ability, as well as lead to better self-awareness and time management. Filled with the author’s original illustrations, the book shares ideas and techniques for developing an effective, personalized system to improve productivity and address teacher burnout. The book can also help teachers help students — particularly those in older grades — prioritize and think through their thoughts, goals and actions to be more productive learners.

Pathways to Well-Being Helping Educators (and Others) Find Balance in a Connected World

Susan Brooks-Young, Sara Armstrong

We all want lives filled with balance, ease and contentment — but how do we get there? In Pathways to Well-Being, authors Susan Brooks-Young and Sara Armstrong share steps to increasing well-being and discuss how six elements — gratitude, positivity, focus, empathy, kindness and movement — impact daily life. All of us, especially educators, influence those around us — in our schools, in our communities and ultimately throughout the world. When we work toward supporting well-being for ourselves and others, our lives are enriched immensely.

This insightful book offers practical examples and activities aimed at helping educators manage their technology use, so they can find balance in work and life.

The Technology Coordinator's Handbook Fourth Edition

A Guide for Edtech Facilitators and Leaders

Technology coordinators and facilitators must be able to navigate the complexities of a school community's technology needs and serve a variety of individuals, including students, teachers and administrators. With its detailed, practical approach, The Technology Coordinator's Handbook has established the standard in clarifying the wide variety of tasks and responsibilities faced by those in this critical role. Readers will learn how to be more effective learners and leaders so they can better assist students and teachers in managing technology use and dealing with technology challenges. The book also offers strategies for education leaders to successfully integrate technology into school and district operations.

This expanded edition includes new chapters covering online and blended learning, and the future of the technology coordinator role. Additionally, the authors follow up with educators featured in the previous edition, who offer insights and discuss how the position has evolved due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

About the Authors

Max Frazier has more than 35 years of experience working in Kansas schools. He has served as a middle school teacher, university instructor, educational technology specialist and technology coordinator.

Doug Hearrington has worked in digital learning innovation and improvement, from elementary to postgraduate education, for nearly 25 years, during which time he has served as technology coordinator at all levels in K-12 schools.

The Edtech Coaching Primer

Supporting Teachers in the Digital Age Classroom

Ashley McBride

The role of the edtech coach is often misunderstood, which can cause funding to be diverted and leads to these roles being cut or never created. It's also not uncommon for those who fill these roles to be asked to perform tasks that pull them away from their most impactful work — supporting teachers and improving learning. This book proposes a model that's both flexible in its implementation and clear in defining actionable steps so that the edtech coaching role has the greatest possible impact.

Featuring checklists, templates and planning and evaluation tools, this book can be a catalyst for helping districts and schools develop a structure for edtech coaching to promote growth in digital teaching and learning.

"Like a good coach, this book helps all of the stakeholders see the need for the role, select the path that's best for all parties, and guides the team on that journey. Ashley McBride has expertly tapped into her extensive experience to develop a wealth of guidelines, strategies, processes, road maps and resources certain to make your edtech coaching journey a successful one."

Adventures in Authentic Learning 21 Step-by-Step Projects From an Edtech Coach

Kristin Harrington

Not every teacher has a dedicated coach who can support them in the classroom. Even those who do can benefit from additional ideas and support from a seasoned coach. Written by an experienced instructional technologist, this book is designed to help fill this role, showing teachers how to empower students to take charge of their own learning and provide creative and authentic opportunities for students to demonstrate their knowledge through projects.

With this book, teachers will get the guidance they need to help students engage in learning experiences that allow them to reflect on their level of knowledge and what they need to learn, while exploring topics that correspond with their interests. Instead of providing text-based slideshow presentations that students read off a screen, teachers will learn to guide students in creating tutorial videos, providing peer reviews, curating their own resources and participating in debates.

Elevate Equity in Edtech

Expanding Inclusive Leadership Through the ISTE Standards

School leaders and administrators often view themselves as the instructional leaders of their schools, and for good reason. So much of what happens in a school revolves around leaders guiding educators to provide high-quality, engaging instruction. But due to their multiple responsibilities, some administrators are not fully aware of the technology and tools teachers are using, and could use additional insight into how technology can be used to innovate instruction and foster equity.

This book addresses these issues, with guidance on how to create an equitable technology landscape by implementing the ISTE Standards, which can provide structure for assessing technology use and serve as a gateway to equity for students, teachers, school leaders and more.

Creative SEL

Using Hands-On Projects to Boost Social-Emotional Learning

Research shows that creativity can be beneficial for mental health and can help build critical skills such as empathy and introspection, while social-emotional learning (SEL) is an integral part of education and human development.

This book bridges these two ideas with a series of creative projects that foster SEL learning by promoting growth mindset, supporting mindfulness, offering ways to cope with anxiety and stress, and encouraging and guiding positive social activism. Opening with an overview of research behind the integration of SEL and creativity, the book then features a variety of lessons based on the above themes, illustrating how to deepen SEL by integrating the arts and STEAM learning in creative and authentic ways.

Flip Your Classroom, Revised Edition

Reaching Every Student in Every Class Every Day

It started with a simple observation: Students need their teachers present to answer questions or to provide help if they get stuck on an assignment; they don't need their teachers present to listen to a lecture or review content. From there, Jon Bergmann and Aaron Sams began the flipped classroom. Students watched recorded lectures for homework and completed their assignments, labs and tests in class with their teacher available. What they found was that their students demonstrated a deeper understanding of the material than ever before. This is the authors' story, updated and expanded to ensure it's as relevant to your classroom as ever.

In the revised edition of this landmark text, you'll discover the flipped mastery model that allows students to learn at their own pace, furthering opportunities for personalized education. This simple concept is easily replicable in any classroom, doesn't cost much to implement and helps foster self-directed learning.

About the Authors

Jon Bergmann teaches science and assists with staff development at Houston Christian High School in Houston. He also serves on the advisory board for TED Education. Bergmann has written or co-authored several books that have been translated into 13 languages.

Aaron Sams is an assistant professor of education at Saint Vincent College in Pennsylvania. He has co-authored many books on the flipped classroom concept, and regularly publishes his research on STEM education policy and practice.

Mobile Learning Mindset

The six-book Mobile Learning Mindset series shares practical knowledge and strategies for successful implementation of K-12 BYOD programs and 1:1 initiatives. The collection provides district leaders, principals, teachers, IT staff, educational coaches and parents with the information they need to make any mobile learning program a success.

Carl Hooker is the founder of LearnFestATX (formerly known as iPadpalooza), a three-day festival that celebrates the cultural shift that technology has brought about in education and the world. He guest authors a regular blog on Tech & Learning and has written guest blogs for HuffPost and Edutopia. He also hosts the ISTE "Learning Unleashed" podcast on BAM Radio and co-hosts the future-ready podcast "Undisrupted."

TECHNOLOGY INTEGRATION

Infusing Technology in the Classroom

Valerie Morrison, Stephanie Novak, Tim Vanderwerff

In this two-book series, you'll learn how to shift your instructional practice and leverage technology to meet today's curriculum education standards for grades K–12. Each book addresses issues that digital age students face and examines the importance of tailoring their learning experiences using technology. The books include classroom-tested lesson ideas in English language arts, math, science and social studies, mapped to ISTE and tech-related standards, to support college and career readiness for students. Also included are practical ideas and up-to-date resources (apps, software and websites) for meeting college- and career-readiness standards for each grade level.

Get Started With Open Educational Resources

Become a pro at leveraging digital curricular resources to make them your own.

This course will teach you how to find high-quality digital resources and understand how to use them effectively. Along the way, you'll also learn how to best make the case for adopting and adapting appropriate OER to your colleagues and administrators.

Length: 5 hours · Price: $65.00 · iste.org/OERCourse

Introduction to the ISTE Standards: Educators

Deepen your practice and collaborate more meaningfully with your peers.

In this course, you will explore the ISTE Educator Standards and their corresponding indicators of success. You will dig into the guidance and support that the standards provide and reflect on your own professional practice to explore opportunities for innovation.

Length: 5 hours · Price: $65.00 · iste.org/ISTEECourse

Learning Should Be Easy: Fact or Fiction?

Dig into why learning can be challenging and get strategies to help all students persevere.

As educators, we work to provide accessible learning experiences to all learners. This course will examine the reasons we may give when learning seems harder for some students than others, and provide specific, learning science research strategies to support the necessary student engagement in productive struggle as part of the natural learning process.

Length: 2 hours · Price: $25.00 · iste.org/LearningEasyCourse

Learning Styles: Fact or Fiction?

Unpack the "learning styles" hypothesis and get instructional strategies that address how students really learn.

As educators, we know that tapping into student interests is an important aspect of motivation. However, student interests are not synonymous with their learning preferences. This course focuses on understanding how learning science strategies, based in research, actually improve student outcomes and how that differs from what we know as "learning styles."

Length: 2 hours · Price: $25.00 · iste.org/LearningStylesCourse

Leading Project-Based Learning With Technology

Design authentic projects that make the most of available and emerging technologies.
